Terms and Conditions, Confidentiality, and Disclaimer:

By purchasing this reading you are confirming that you are 18 years of age or older.

The following questions or areas of interest will not be read for, in order to maintain alignment with my personal values and ethics:

1. Questions regarding mortality/death, such as “how/when will I die?” or “will my sick relative die?” as well as any requests to communicate with the deceased.
2. Questions about what a third party is doing, thinking, or feeling. We sometimes refer to this in the industry as SPYING, and it is something I consider unethical, as well as irrelevant to the client’s own personal development. However, there are sometimes cases where another person’s actions can affect the client’s life directly (for instance, “my wife just received a new job offer that would relocate our family, is this the best move for us now?” or questions regarding break ups, marital issues, crushes, etc.). In these cases, I am able to work with the client in formulating a suitable question that would respect the ethical boundaries I have set in place as well as provide a helpful reading for the client.
3. Any question that I feel goes outside the bounds of my personal mission as a tarot reader.

Email reading purchases are final, and no refunds will be given, except for extenuating circumstances to be considered at my discretion. I reserve the right to refuse service to anyone, thereby providing a refund if I feel we are not a compatible fit.

All readings through Sundown are treated as confidential. The contents of readings will never be disclosed from myself to any third parties, nor will any information about the client, including their name. The client, however, is free to share their reading to the public in whatever way they feel comfortable.

All readings are for spiritual and entertainment purposes only. No reading shall ever override the advice of proper legal, financial, medical, psychological, or other professional advice. Please consult an expert when necessary.
